FALL, WINTER, SPRING 2015-2016

President's Message

Brothers,

I hope you are all doing well. As you all know, the brotherhood was temporarily located away from 1 Webster and we had our first terms with new members without a physical plant. We tackled those difficulties and I believe that we responded well, creating a great environment for the new members. Although we didn't have the house for Fall or Winter rush, we used the Rockefeller Center which turned out to be a success. We added 21 new brothers to the house in the Fall and three more in the Winter, a larger group than any within the last 5 years. We held meetings at Tom Dent Cabin, which is down by the Connecticut River and had a blast even without being in the basement.

The brotherhood is excited to begin working with our two new faculty advisors; Professors Julie Kalish '91 and Roger Ulrich (Tri-Kap '77). Professor Kalish is a professor in Dartmouth's Writing department and Professor Ulrich is the Ralph Butterfield Professor of Classical Studies.

Although Professor Ulrich was off in the Fall because of he was hosting a study abroad in Rome, he was still very helpful within the house and kept in touch with the undergrads. The brotherhood hosted an academic talk featuring Professor Kalish. We cannot wait to draw upon their advice and experience as we move into this new chapter in Tri-Kap's history.

The Fall and Winter were a very busy terms for everyone here on campus, but we still had great participation with our events and IM sports. This term we required at least 2 philanthropic hours from each brother to increase our presence within the Dartmouth and Upper Valley community. Brendan Krimsky '17 organized the annual Haunted House with Alpha Xi Delta Sorority; the event was a great success with brothers and sisters helping out during the morning and afternoon. Our IM soccer team had an amazing season, only to lose on penalty kicks in the finals late in the Fall. In the winter term we tried to repeat our IM hockey championship, but saw a bitter defeat in the playoffs..

Construction on the new house continued and the brotherhood was able to move into the house on March 25, right before Spring term. While there are some finishing touches before opening up to the public, the house at 1 Webster Avenue filled with Tri-Kaps once again. We look forward to welcoming back alumni for Green Key Weekend, Commencement and Reunions.

As I hand over the reins to incoming president Ted Poatsy '17, I just want to say what an honor and a privilege it has been to be the president of this great fraternity. I have absolute faith that he, and the rest of the incoming undergraduate executives, will work tirelessly to uphold the values and traditions of the brotherhood in the face of a changing campus environment.

Yours in Kappa,

Keaton Renta '16

Alumni Board Report

It has been an extremely busy year for us all! Much has happened at the College and at the house.

The biggest news: it's official! The undergraduates have moved into a newly renovated house! A wonderful mix of old and new has come into being thanks to our own Bruce Williamson '74. The basement is all new total eliminating the old kitchen and tube room/weight room which was constantly flooding. The upstairs bathroom – long a source of trouble – has been moved and redone. The Great Hall and the GOTE room are, to use a phrase from the Talking Heads “Same as it they ever was”.

For Bruce this has been a labor of love and we owe a huge debt of thanks to him. He not only oversaw the construction effort but dealt with the various Town agencies which required some delicate negotiations. With only a few areas left to be completed, as you will see from the other articles in this edition, the house is proving already to be a place for great experiences and significantly lower operational costs.

We also owe a debt of thanks to those of you who have contributed hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars so far to get construction to where it is today. Now the long work begins to pay the over $2 million loan we took out from the College.

The undergraduates under the leadership of past Treasurer Josh Tupler '16 and current Treasurer Sam Libby '17 with guidance from our alumni Treasurer Terry Lowd '66, Vice-Chairman Sunil Bhagavath '03, and former undergraduate Treasurer Brett Szalapski '15 have created a budget that shows the undergraduates repaying a substantial amount of the loan. But they alone cannot repay the entire loan. We need you, faithful alumni, to help cover the repayment. No amount is too small. Hundreds of Tri-Kap alumni have contributed to the Campaign. Donation information is available on the web site (<http://www.tri-kap.com/?q=campaign>). Checks can be made out to Kappa Kappa Kappa Society and sent to Sunil Bhagavath at 15 Collingwood Drive, Huntington Station, NY 11746. Please consider donating or contact our Campaign Chair Michael Brasher '10 to discuss arrangements for making a contribution.

Alumni Board Report (Cont'd)

Kudos also to the current House Managers Vince Puzak '17 and Ronak Kanwar '17 who have learned the new systems and are putting procedures in place to ensure the safe and efficient operation of the new building. Thanks, also to Matt Graves '14 and Will Bollenbach '15 (both ex-House Managers) who helped put together a new Facilities Operations Guide and Residential Use Guide respectively. It is a relief to see house management and usage guidelines finally documented. All this work will set the stage for the next 100 years of building operations. As you may be aware, the College has turned the Moving Dartmouth Forward report into policies and procedures to which the undergraduates need to adhere. I am happy to report that the undergraduates have things well under control in this regard and continue to be an exemplary Greek organization.

We continue to work to get alumni and undergraduates together. If you are interested in alumni reunions in your area, please reach out to the contacts listed on the Alumni web page (<http://www.tri-kap.com/?q=node/2> ). The 2016 Annual Meeting – the first in our new house – will be on May 21st. Details are on the Alumni page of the web site as well as are details about upcoming Commencement and Reunion gatherings. Enjoy the rest of the Pillar and let us hear from you soon!

Yours in Kappa,

Treasurer's Report

Despite major expenses with the new house, including furniture purchases and a major loan from the College, the Tri-Kap treasury has remained vibrant. We have maintained higher brotherhood dues to compensate for the lack of rent income, and we have explored opportunities to partner with the College and other houses to cosponsor events on campus, such as the faculty talk with house advisor Julie Kalish.

The brothers formed a move-in committee to develop a move-in plan and to purchase new furniture. The budget came from savings over the previous few terms, allowing us to buy new, durable furniture that will last well into the life of the new house. We are pleased to report that final move-in expenses have come in under budget, and the move-in process has heightened our sense of fiscal responsibility.

As we continue with move-in throughout the Spring term, we hope the alumni will support us as we plan for repayment of the loan from the College. While we promise to budget frugally in the face of this loan, we also recognize that we cannot survive without the tremendous help of our loyal alumni. We hope that you will think of us as you remember the amazing memories you had while you occupied the hallowed halls.

House Managers' Report

As progress on renovations reached a fever pitch, excitement filled the air, as the undergraduate brothers made frequent visits to inspect construction progress. While the brotherhood thrived this winter at 25 Valley Road, the additional wings of the Kappa lodge took shape, generating buzz across campus. Domus, the construction company owned by Bruce Williamson '74, has made incredible progress, finishing the basement, brothers' rooms, the brand new bathroom, and the major west extension. While construction on the new front porch, the portico, and the parking lot will continue through spring term, we are thrilled to move back into the nicest house on Webster Avenue.

During the Winter term, the undergraduates focused mainly on preparing for move-in by painting new pong tables, developing a move-in plan, and finalizing new furniture purchases. We also helped the construction crew out by temporarily moving the first floor bar out of their way, and we organized a tour of 1 Webster Avenue during Winter Carnival. Meanwhile, business as usual continued at the off campus house, which hosted major social and brotherhood events, and at Tom Dent Cabin, which hosted meetings.

The undergraduate brothers recognize just how lucky we are to experience and live in this beautiful new facility. In accordance with this knowledge, the housemen have developed a plan, in consultation with the alumni board, for better care and upkeep of the physical plant. The undergraduates promise to treat the new house as our own and ensure that it will continue to stand for another hundred years. Our experience off campus has only made us stronger as we move into 1 Webster Avenue this spring, and we will continue to keep alive the traditions that have defined this society for the past 174 years.

Social Chairmen's Report

Although living out of our esteemed hallowed halls is never ideal, our brotherhood held strong for our two final terms out of the house and continued cooking up exciting social events. The fall was highlighted by our end of term formal, hosted at the DOC House on Occom pond, a new brotherhood favorite. As the first formal for the new '18s, it was extremely well attended and quite successful. We hope to continue hosting events at the DOC house moving forward.

Thanks to hard scheduling work over winterim by socials Eric Fett '18 and Charles Cai '16, the winter social calendar was full to the brim. The term began with some hot “stop light” tails with our favorite Thetas (Epsilon Kappa Theta) followed by an animal themed extravaganza with the women of Alpha Xi Delta. The following weekend, Sigma Delta and Phi Delta Alpha hosted us and our new members for a Vegas themed event of betting and dice, a Phi-Delt staple. To cap off the term, we co-hosted an awesome semi-formal with the lovely women of Kappa Delta at the Great View Roller Skating Rink. Beginning with pre-tails at KD, we rented buses to bring 130 people to the skating rink for pizza and dancing, and then ended the night with room-to-room tails at the off-campus house.

Stemming from such a positive experience working with other socials to schedule events while we lacked a legitimate house, we cannot be more excited to see how Tri-Kap develops its new social identity as we return to 1 Webster.

Risk Manager's Report

I am honored to write the first official Risk Manager pillar article. The position came to fruition in winter term of 2015, and I have held the position ever since. Now, as we enter the new and improved 1 Webster in an ever-changing Dartmouth climate, the position is becoming ever more important. My goals are simple: to ensure the safety of our brotherhood, to ensure the safety of our guests, maintain positive working relationships with various College entities, and to ensure the future of Kappa Kappa Kappa at 1 Webster Avenue.

Earlier this spring term, Ted Poatsy '17 and I met with Katherine Strong in Judicial Affairs. In the meeting, we went through Tri-Kap's 5-year judicial record with the College. The record consists of incidents involving individual brothers, the physical plant, and guests. The review was positive, with Ms. Strong praising us for our ability to care for guests while also suggesting points of improvement to monitor moving forward, such as better adherence to fire code. Ms. Strong looks forward to working with us, and she made clear how she appreciates proactive efforts on behalf of brotherhood in the event that an incident occurs. Additionally, I have great relationships with multiple individuals in Safety and Security, and I have been talking with them, too, to ensure our return to campus is risk-free. Our first official walk-through last week was a great success.

Members of Judicial Affairs as well as Safety and Security have been invited over to tour the new house and are excited to do so once the construction at 1 Webster is fully completed. Additionally, we will be having open talks at 1 Webster with both Judicial Affairs and Safety and Security. I look forward to holding these and other events to maintain the relationship of Tri-Kap with the College and to continue managing and defusing risk over the next year.

YiK,

Joe Minichiello '17

Programming Chairmen's Report

Despite the displacement of the brotherhood from the hallowed halls at 1 Webster during the Fall and Winter, a variety of programming events have helped to maintain Tri-Kap's characteristic brotherhood.

The fall saw the continuation of one of the brotherhood's most hallowed programming traditions: trips to Worthy Burger. Located in South Royalton, VT, this spot for burger and brews has been a favorite brotherhood getaway in recent years. The bonds and memories created over the long car rides, unbelievable food, and quality craft brews are unforgettable. We hope that alumni who have yet to experience the greatness of our favorite getaway spot will join us on future expeditions.

Perhaps the programming highlight of the fall term came during the peak of football season. As Dartmouth played Harvard for the Ivy League Championship in Cambridge, many Dartmouth fraternities and sororities made the drive down to support the Big Green. Tri-Kap, we are happy to say, was well represented; Numerous alumni and undergrads banded together to cheer on Dartmouth. A special thanks to Chris Loughlin '17 and his family for hosting many Tri-Kaps in their pre-game tailgate. Though the Big Green lost the game in the final minutes, the undergrads enjoyed reinforcing the bonds of brotherhood throughout the night.

This winter saw a spike in viewing events hosted at 25 Valley Road, Tri-Kap's off campus home for the fall and winter. The brotherhood gathered for Sunday night movies and pizza chosen by programming chair James Howe '17, a connoisseur in both respects. Additionally, the brothers at 25 Valley hosted a rushee-Super Bowl viewing party, which was well attended by all. As the installation of televisions and other infrastructure nears completion at the new lodge, the brothers hope to continue these traditions into the foreseeable future.

With barbecues, hiking trips, and the inevitable Fore-U and Worthy Burger excursions on the horizon, the upcoming terms look to be quite active on the programming front. We look forward to using the new house to its fullest as we host these and many new events.

Rush Chairmen's Report

The fall term was an extremely positive and important one for rush, especially considering the lack of a physical plant. The term began with an important addendum to the fall rush process: an IFC sponsored pre-rush event. The brothers enjoyed socializing with rushees at the off campus house on Valley road, and bonded over brother Josh Schoenbart '16's famous barbecue. The event was well attended and marks a positive change in the cooperative effort between fraternities and the college to make the rush process more transparent and accessible.

Over the weekend of October 2nd and 3rd, the brothers hosted our annual rush. A big thank you to faculty advisor and Tri-Kap alumnus Roger Ulrich '74 for assisting in the reservation of Morrison Commons in the Rockefeller Center, a room overlooking our Hallowed Halls on 1 Webster. Rush was extremely successful. The brotherhood is blessed to have welcomed twenty-one new members into our brotherhood, our largest fall class in our time in the house.

Tri-Kap has historically hosted winter rush for a small number of new members, and this year was no different. We welcomed an additional three new members to our brotherhood in the winter of 2016. We handed over the duties of rush chair to a fantastic group of '18s: Kent Ueno, Cesar Rufino, and Jonathan Schwartz. We are confident that they will continue to admirably represent the brotherhood of Tri-Kap and welcome many '19s to the brotherhood in the coming year.

Philanthropy Chairman's Report

Over the fall and winter terms Tri-Kap's philanthropy has continued to thrive. Not only have we continued to host our most popular events, but we have also begun to develop new fundraisers while increasing incentives for brotherhood participation in community service.

The fall saw the return of Tri-Kap's annual Haunted House which, true to form, was yet another great success. Without the halls of 1 Webster this year, the sisters of Alpha Xi Delta graciously offered to co-host the event in their facility. Over a dozen families attended throughout the afternoon on Halloween, and the feedback we received from the participants was fabulous. The brothers were excited to give back to the community while also furthering our connections with the sisters of AZD. We hope to engage in more joint opportunities like this moving forward.

To further incentivize brotherhood participation in philanthropy, we instituted the first ever brotherhood philanthropy requirement. This rule requires brothers to complete a minimum number of approved philanthropy hours to become eligible to attend formal at the end of the term. This new incentive structure has proven extremely effective in increasing Tri-Kap's standing within both the Dartmouth and Upper Valley communities.

This winter, Tri-Kap was invited to run a booth in the multi-house Collis Winter Bazaar, a charity event sponsored by the local chapter of Relay for Life. The coordinators asked Tri-Kap to run a table called the "Tri-Kap Masters Challenge", in which participants would donate to play water pong against one of Tri-Kap's Masters Champions. The house raised over $100 in a very short time span, well exceeding the goals of the Bazaar organizers.

This spring, we hope to run the 2nd annual Tri-Kap Hot Dog Eating Contest for "I Care, I Cure," a charity co-founded and run by Phil Chair Brendan Krinsky '17.

If you are in the Upper Valley area and aware of any philanthropy opportunities that might be appropriate for the brotherhood, please do not hesitate to contact us!

Academic Chairman's Report

Over the Fall and Winter terms, I had two academic goals for our brotherhood: maintaining a close relationship with their professors and improving their potential as students. In light of the current renovations to our house on 1 Webster Avenue and the financial burden associated with it, I took a more conservative approach to accomplishing these goals for the fraternity.

We relied on the college's resources to maintain our relationships with our professors by taking advantage of the "Take a Faculty Member to Lunch Program." Brothers were encouraged to use this college-sponsored program in order to get to know their professors better on a one-on-one basis. Our second academic goal was accomplished by sending TED Talks on different subjects to the house periodically throughout the term. These ten to twenty minute talks featured the great speakers Sean Achor, Larry Smith, Julian Treasure, and Amy Cuddy. While some of these presentations were aimed to improve the house's academic skills by showing the effects of positive psychology and body language on academic performance and behavior, others helped the brothers speak more effectively and find that extra motivation to get through midterms.

Above & Below: Tri-Kap's new faculty advisors Julie Kalish and Roger Ulrich '77. The brothers look forward to working with them to sustain Tri-Kap's strong relationship with the College

The fall marked the addition of sustainability responsibilities to the Academic Chair. As such, the planning for how to make the house more sustainable in the upcoming terms has been underway. Among other ideas, we are looking to find an effective way to sort out the aluminum cans from our garbage in order to sell them as scrap metal to a recycling company, which would greatly reduce the house's impact on the environment.

Athletic Chairman's Report

We had some great moments on the field 15F. Soccer started off weakly with a 0-4 loss to Alpha Delta. Our rush chairs pulled in a talented class, including club soccer players Marcus Reid '18, Kent Ueno '18, Skyler Perot '18, and Eric Fett '18. We thought that our new members would tear up the league. Unfortunately, we underperformed in the regular season. Against Bones Gate, we relied on a beautiful goal by Chris Loughlin '17 to save us a tie in the last minute. Playing Beta, Marcus Reid '18 scored our only goal on over 20 shots, earning us another tie.

In the playoff semifinals, Josh Lange '17 scored a hattrick over BG as Tri-Kap rolled 5-1. We faced AD again for the title. Chris Loughlin '17 took over in the first minute, slotting a low shot home from about 15 yards out. AD rallied to tie, and with three minutes left, Marcus Reid '18 set up Chris Loughlin '17 for what seemed to be a game winner. Unfortunately, the goal was called back for a foul. AD prevailed in a penalty shootout 5-4.

Julian Marcu '18 dominated football. Facing SAE, he pulled in 3 touchdown passes from Josh Lange '17. The game came close, and SAE grabbed a late touchdown to win.

In 16W, Tri-Kap returned several members of its 15W Championship Intramural Hockey team, including tenacious defensemen Brett Szalapski '15 and James Howe '17. Forward Joshua Schoenbart '16 also added offensive firepower. Unfortunately, the brothers were unable to repeat due to some unfortunate bounces of the puck. Prospects for our imminent 3 on 3 basketball tournament look strong, with a team led by club basketball's Julian Marcu '18, a 6' 3" monster in the post.

In 1969, he joined Boettcher & Company as an account executive in their Pueblo office. He was later promoted to manager. In 1979, Boettcher sent Ken to Albuquerque to establish and manage the firm's presence in New Mexico, building the office to 15 account executives. His last position at Boettcher was in the retail administrative headquarters in Denver, at which time the firm had grown to over 23 offices in 10 Western states in addition to Colorado. He retired in 1987.

Over the years, Ken served on several boards including El Pueblo Boys and Girls Ranch, Pueblo Country Club, chairman of the club addition and renovation project in 2002, and was a member of the Pueblo Planning & Zoning Commission. Ken enjoyed golf, his golfing buddies and socializing with friends, neighbors and a wide array of acquaintances. Gregarious by nature, he had a great sense of humor, could tell a story with the best of them. He and Linda spent summers at their cabin at Cuerna Verde in Rye, where they loved to entertain guests. In his last days, he was surrounded by supportive family and friends, the people he always preferred to be with and among.
